Streams: Marked for Re-Release

Collectively My Music has been listened to over 8million times around the world. However all albums were removed from the internet to restart a new Marketing strategy for more revenue and viewership. All the music that was places on the digital music platforms weren't being tracked properly in case lead to the initial restart. It also means that the listening count of the music could have been potentially herd closer to 10 million times. New music is also being created with Japanese artist for the Japanese music market which is planned to be distributed in Japan as well as the rest of the world.
